1. With internal security as the obvious objective, Chinese Communist authorities in Peiping are now carrying on the registration of foreign nationals in that city. Registration is conducted during a 40-minute private interview with the police.
2. The interview of Dr. Leo Eloesser, head of the North China United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), was unusually lengthy. The police showed a great deal of interest in his trip to the USSR, although this was from a suspicious rather than a friendly viewpoint. Dr. Eloesser again predicts that UNICEF will cease activities because it is not wanted by the Chinese Communists who persist with their obstruction tactics. *
